other than looking odd, it can cause symptoms in the neck such as hoarseness, choking, and persistent coughing.

this activity has also magnified the issue to a degree which does not accurately reflect the scope of the issue