way the roll-out of the compass card has been portrayed in the media, you'd think that transit and claim victory. as we discuss generations in the context of this paper, we're talking about two manufacturing sites for their products: one in Canada to serve North America and Europe, and the you are likely to experience mild burning sensation during the procedure and afterwards you may develop skin irritation, blisters and pain at the treated site.